Addams! Addams! So Say We All, Gentlemen!

[From the Shelby Sentinel.]

Is there a Democrat but believes that if Senator McCreary gets the Gubernatorial nomination, the chances of his party's success will be in doubt? Is it not the part of wisdom, therefore, for him to turn to someone who can bring the people to victory? William Addams, of Harrison county, is such a candidate. Place your banner in his hands and he will give you the hope and enthusiasm that must land us all winners. A few weeks since we were left floundering, feeling that there were none to make an active fight to oppose Senator McCreary for the nomination, but since the manly stand and clean-cut statements of Mr. Addams, our doubts are at last thrown aside and hope has taken the place of our doubts in our party success.

There be times when our darkest periods are just before the dawn, and Democracy in Kentucky appears to have passed through them. From now on every man should feel, with such a man as Addams to lead, that success must surely come.

Mr. Addams has a number of relatives and friends in "Old Shelby," and, though this county is in Mr. McCreary's district yet it can be turned to the Harrison county man who can land the party triumphant in November.

Let us stop our party bickerings. Addams is a man we can unite upon, and let us all, therefore, get together and be for Addams.

Let the party slogan be "Party success," and Mr. Addams will be selected. He is the man of the hour, the man you want, the man you need, the man you must have.

Addams! Addams! So say we all! Addams!

The Value of Ideals.

What we make of ourselves depends upon the ideals which we habitually hold. Our lives are shaped upon our mental models. If these be high, the life is lofty; if low it grovels. Man is no better than his ideals. The stream can not rise higher than its source. Our work can never overtop our ideal, our ambition. It is a great thing to keep the constant suggestion of high ideals, of things that are grand and noble in human achievement, in the mind. It tends to make us love the right and hate the wrong. There is one thing we ought to hold in such sacredness that no consideration could induce us to dilute it, and that is the quality of the life, the quality of our ideals. Whatever else we are careless about, we cannot afford to carry through life low ideals, second class personalities or demoralized mentalities. However humble our homes or ordinary our environment, we should keep the quality of the life, the personality, at the highest possible standard. We should allow nothing to deteriorate it.

Yet most people are careless and indifferent regarding the quality of their lives. There is a slipshodness in their living, a slovenliness in their mentality, which tend to deteriorate the quality of the life and make it cheap and commonplace.

Whatever your career, guard your ideal as the apple of your eye, the pearl of great price; for everything depends upon the direction in which that points. If it points downward, no amount of money or influence can redeem you from mediocrity, or even save you from a degraded life. Man is so made that he must follow his ideal. He cannot go up if his ideal points down.—Orison Swett Marden in "Success Magazine."

A dispatch from Frankfort says: "A runaway cow, pursued by a countryman, dashed into the dry goods and ladies' furnishing house of C. Kagin & Bro. here yesterday afternoon, throwing the women shoppers into a panic. She dashed madly down the main aisle of the storeroom until she came upon a large plate mirror. There she halted, calmly surveyed herself in the glass, as shoppers and clerks scurried to other parts of the store and hid behind counters. The proprietors were at a loss what to do, when the cow quietly turned and left the store by another aisle. Her owner took her very promptly to the butcher."

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

GIVEN AWAY.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
